Agreeing to review the paper now gives you access to view the submission (see below)

You may also be able to view the history of the paper

If applicable you can also search for similar Articles in the Medline Database, by clicking the 'Search Articles in Medline' link

This will bring you to the Medline Database, where the search results will automatically appear in a new browser window

View Submission

You can now download the relevant files for your review by clicking on the 'View Submission' link

The submission will be displayed in PDF format

Once you have reviewed the files, you can now proceed to submit a recommendation, by clicking on the 'Submit a Recommendation' link

Submitting your review

When you are ready to submit your recommendation, click 'Submit Recommendation'. This will bring you to the 'Reviewer Recommendation and Comments' screen (see below).

Comments Screen fig 1.9

The screenshot shows the 'Reviewer Recommendation and Comments' screen on the Elsevier Training Site. The header includes the site name, navigation links (home, main menu, submit paper, guide for authors, register, change details, log out), and user information (Username: ashley, Role: Reviewer). The main content area is divided into two sections:

- Reviewer Blind Comments to Author: This section features a large, empty text input area for the reviewer to provide comments. To the right of the input area is an 'Open in New Window' button.
- Reviewer Confidential Comments to Editor: This section contains a scale for rating the article's quality. The text reads: "For each question, please use the following scale to answer (place an x in the space provided):". Below this, a question is displayed: "To what extent does the article meet this criterion?". A radio button is shown next to the text "Fails by a large amount".

You may choose the recommendation term by clicking on the drop down list of terms beside 'Recommendation'

This will display the available various recommendation terms e.g. Accept, Decline, Reject etc

A numeric rating for the manuscript can be entered in the box next to 'Manuscript Rating (1-100)' if the journal requires this function

1 = a very low rating & 100 is a very high rating

Note: this may not be applicable to all Journals, thus it may not be displayed on the screen

The journal provides specific referee instructions on submitting a review – you can access these instructions by clicking 'Reviewer Instructions' (just above the comments fields)

We encourage reviewers to read these instructions before entering a decision

Recommendation Screen fig 2.0

The screenshot displays the 'Reviewer Recommendation and Comments for Manuscript Number 002 "Test"' interface. At the top, the 'ELSEVIER Training Site' logo is visible. The navigation bar includes links for 'home', 'main menu', 'submit paper', 'guide for authors', 'register', 'change details', and 'log out'. The user's profile shows 'Username: ashley' and 'Role: Reviewer'. The main heading is 'Reviewer Recommendation and Comments for Manuscript Number 002 "Test"', followed by 'Original Submission Ashley O Connor (Reviewer 1)'. The 'Recommendation' dropdown is currently set to 'No Recommendation'. To the right, there is a 'Manuscript Rating (1-100)' input field. Below these are buttons for 'Cancel', 'Save & Submit Later', 'Proof & Print', and 'Proceed'. A text box for 'Reviewer Blind Comments to Author:' is present, along with a 'Review Instructions' link and an 'Open in New Window' button.

At any time, you can save a draft copy of your work in progress, thus the system will save your inputted details, which you can access again by logging in to the system

To save a draft click on the 'Save & Submit later' link

Reviewer Comments

This text box provides the reviewer the opportunity to enter in confidential comments to the author

You may key in comments in the first text box (blind comments to author) or copy and paste from MS Word (or similar) into the boxes provided. The confidential comments to Editor usually include a journal-specific review form

Clicking the 'Open in New Window' button at the top right of the data entry fields will open the field in a new browser window. This provides you with a larger view of the review field. Clicking 'Proof and Print' will open a window containing all the review format information suitable for printing. Clicking 'Submit Now' will open a confirmation page (see below), reminding the referee of the information you is about to submit. If you need to make further edits, click 'Edit Review'. If you are satisfied with your review, click 'Submit Review to Journal Office'

The screenshot shows the 'Reviewer Recommendation and Comments for Manuscript Number 002 "Test"' page. The page header includes 'ELSEVIER Training Site' and navigation links like 'home', 'main menu', 'submit paper', 'guide for authors', 'register', 'change details', and 'log out'. The user's role is identified as 'Reviewer'. The main content area displays the manuscript title 'Original Submission Ashley O Connor (Reviewer 1)' and four buttons: 'Back', 'Edit Review', 'Print', and 'Submit Review To Journal Office'. Below these buttons, the recommendation is 'Accept' and the manuscript rating is '(1-100)'. There are two text input fields: 'Reviewer Blind Comments to Author:' and 'Reviewer Confidential Comments to Editor:'.
